

ONE SQUARE GOES PINK FOR BREAST CANCER AWARENESS MONTH

- 'Chocolate Tree Afternoon Tea' will turn pink
- Cancer Research UK Fundraising Evening on 12th October

September 2017: One Square, the modern Scottish restaurant and bar on Edinburgh's Festival Square, will be supporting Breast Cancer Awareness Month throughout October with a range of exciting fundraising activities.

In partnership with Rocco Rosé, One Square is inviting the ladies of Edinburgh and beyond to join an evening full of delights on Thursday 12th October to support Cancer Research UK's vital research to ensure more men, women and children in Scotland and across the UK survive cancer.

Taking place in One Square's delightful private dining room, guests will enjoy a complimentary glass of fizz on arrival followed by an update from Cancer Research UK's Edinburgh Centre on the progress the charity is making into breast cancer treatment. Two inspiring women will also tell their remarkable story before guests indulge in a 'pink' Chocolate Tree Afternoon Tea overlooking the iconic Edinburgh Castle.

The 'Pink' Chocolate Tree Afternoon Tea will also be available throughout October for those looking for a sweet treat between shops or a delightful afternoon with friends. In partnership with local artisan chocolatiers Chocolate Tree, One Square's expert pastry chef has infused the tempting array of savouries, scones and sumptuous chocolate treats with a glorious hint of pink.

One Square Goes Pink – event details

- Thursday 12th October, 5.30pm – 8.30pm

About Cancer Research UK

One in two people in the UK will be diagnosed with cancer at some stage in their lives, but the good news is more people are surviving the disease now than ever before. Cancer survival in the UK has doubled since the early 1970s and Cancer Research UK's work has been at the heart of that progress. However, we have only been able to achieve this thanks to the dedication and commitment of volunteers and supporters like The Sheraton without whom we would not be able to fund our life-saving research

Last year Cancer Research UK spent more than £34 million a year in Scotland on some of the UK's leading scientific and clinical research.

Scientists at the Edinburgh Cancer Research UK Centre are interested in understanding how cancer spreads and becomes resistant to drugs. They are developing new imaging techniques to monitor cancer spread and, crucially, to find ways to slow or stop the process. This cutting-edge research is already revealing opportunities to develop new treatments designed to stop cancer spreading. It might be possible to use these drugs as long-term treatments, so that even if a cancer is not cured, it can be kept at bay for many years.

- Cancer Research UK is the world's leading cancer charity dedicated to saving lives through research.
- Cancer Research UK's pioneering work into the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of cancer has helped save millions of lives.
- Cancer Research UK receives no government funding for its life-saving research. Every step it makes towards beating cancer relies on vital donations from the public.
- Cancer Research UK has been at the heart of the progress that has already seen survival in the UK double in the last 40 years.
- Today, 2 in 4 people survive their cancer for at least 10 years. Cancer Research UK's ambition is to accelerate progress so that by 2034, 3 in 4 people will survive their cancer for at least 10 years.
- Cancer Research UK supports research into all aspects of cancer through the work of over 4,000 scientists, doctors and nurses.
- Together with its partners and supporters, Cancer Research UK's vision is to bring forward the day when all cancers are cured.
